My Christmas Holiday

Today, I had the most hilarious Christmas with my family and relatives!

This morning, I woke up early to have my breakfast because we had planned to go to Tai Lam Country Park to enjoy the colour of autumn festival!

Then, we immediately set out because my cousin and I were so thrilled to see the beautiful trees. It was quite far away from our home, so it took us a long time to get there.

When we arrived, we followed the path to go to the top of the mountain. On the way, we saw a crowd of people! Most of them preferred hiking to having a barbecue because they enjoy seeing the autumn leaves.

We saw lot of different colours of leaves, such as, green, yellow, brown, orange and finally we saw the most beautiful colour, red! I took some fallen leaves back home as a souvenir.

On our way home we saw a beautiful sunset and we decided that we would bring some food for a barbecue next time to stay and enjoy the quiet environment.

My Christmas Gift

One of my Christmas gifts is a new game called "Just Dance 2020". It is a game where you can choose different songs and dance along. It is a lot of fun because I can listen to my favourite songs while doing exercise (which I normally don't like).

This game also has some of my favourite songs. For example "Kill This Love" by Black Pink. Exercise suddenly seems a lot easier. It burns many calories too. Thirty minutes later, I have already burnt a hundred calories. It's good news for me since I am a bit overweight (maybe not just a bit).

I like this game very much because not only can I have fun, I can also lose weight. From now on, I can do exercise no matter if it is sunny or rainy outside.
