A Story

Last Tuesday morning, Kate was having an English lesson. Miss Ho, the teacher taught Class 5S about Princess Kate. Kate felt bored with the baby princess and fell asleep at her desk. Kate dreamed of Princess Kate and other princesses that had a Beauty Competition.

Kate saw her friend Mary next to her. She asked "Who is Princess Kate?" Mary said "The girl with the curly hair and a crown is Princess Kate. You are Kate." Kate laughed loudly.

At the same time, Princess Kate went away but she dropped her shiny necklace. Kate picked it up. She wanted to stop Princess Kate but Princess Kate had walked far already. So she went off to chase Princess Kate. Kate went fast so she could chase Princess Kate. She shouted "Kate, your necklace!" Princess Kate said "Thank you. You are a kind girl. What is your name?" "Kate," answered Kate, "The same name as you." Kate said, "Let's be friends!"

Suddenly, Miss Ho woke Kate up. She was angry. Miss Ho said "Create a story about Princess Kate. Then I will forgive you." Kate talked about what happened in her dream. Miss Ho didn't punish her. Everybody thought it was just a story. However, Kate knew it was real and nobody except her ever knew the truth.

Study Tour Letter

Dear Mom,

I am having a wonderful time in China. I have been here for five days and I have done a few things so far.

On the first day, I went to the Great Wall. I went there with my new classmates. My new classmates took me there. We saw the magnificent views. Also, we took a lot of photos there. I was excited and over the moon. In the afternoon, we ate Peking Duck. It was delicious. I liked it.

On the second day, I ate candied fruit. It was a little bit sweet, but tasty. My classmates took me to the Forbidden City. We admired the ancient buildings and beautiful gardens, and we visited the Palace Museum. It had a lot of information and was beautiful. We went to see the best kept royal garden.

I haven't eaten lamb hot pot yet. I'll eat it tomorrow. Write back soon.

Love,
Rachel
