Ocean Park

After the pandemic, I will go to Ocean Park in Aberdeen. I will go there with my parents and my elder brother. The last time we went there was last year.

We will go to Ocean Park by bus. We will see different animals such as fish, pandas, sharks, jellyfish and dolphins. I will not ride on the roller coaster because I am scared.

I am really looking forward to visiting Ocean Park, because I like visiting cute animals.

An Unforgettable Experience

Three months ago, I went to Tai O to see the Chinese pink dolphins and look at the beautiful view.

We woke up at 7:30 a.m. We took the MTR to Tung Chung and took the bus to Tai O. Tai O was not what I expected it to be. Tai O was full of people! In fact, it was like a city! There were markets, convenience stores and even parking lots!

There were lots of beautiful murals in Tai O. I took lots of photos with them. Then we went to a restaurant to eat lunch. Although the food there cost a lot, the deliciousness of the food paid off.

After lunch, we went to the boat dock and went on a boat to search for some Chinese pink dolphins. There were a lot of other visitors on the boat too. We were paying close attention to the sea to look for the dolphins. We waited for ten minutes. Suddenly, a pink creature jumped out of the sea - it was a Chinese pink dolphin! Everybody was cheering. Then, another creature jumped out of the sea right by the boat! Everybody cheered even louder. We were very lucky. It is usually very hard to encounter one.

Next, we took another boat ride to visit the traditional stilt houses, they are also known as Pang Uk. Pang Uk is a unique type of house in Hong Kong. They are built on water or on small beaches. They are supported on bamboo sticks or wood sticks. They were once in other fishing towns such as Lei Yue Mun and Ma Wan, but only those in Tai O are preserved on a large scale. Pang Uk was developed from the boat houses of Tanka, the local fishing people, after they migrated to the land. After the boat ride, we went to a gift shop to buy some souvenirs. Lastly, we waited for the bus and went back home.

This trip to Tai O was really an unforgettable experience. I hope people can protect the endangered Chinese pink dolphins, so that they can survive and we can see them again in the future. I can't wait to see them again!
