

6G (6) Cho Ming Hin, Marcus

The Lemon Festival

Good morning. I'm Marcus Cho. Today I'm going to talk about the Lemon Festival (La fête du Citron).

The Lemon Festival is celebrated in mid-February. It lasts for more than 15 days (from 12th to 27th February, 2022). It is celebrated in Menton, France. There are exhibitions of gigantic citrus fruit sculptures in the Bioves Garden.

During this festival, lemons are eaten. Although no special clothes are worn, there are marching bands and costumed entertainers. It is very special. It sounds interesting.

This festival is also called Carnival of Menton. It celebrates the annual production of specialty lemons and other citrus fruits in Menton. All the floats and figures at the carnival are created from lemons and oranges. They are beautiful but a little bit of a waste as more than 100,000 lemons are used. It is unique.

I like watching the lemon float parade. It is special to make the floats with lemons. It looks very real too. I will take pictures with them if I have a chance to go there. They come in so many shapes such as trains, giraffes and lions. I think I will be open-mouthed when I see them.

6G (24) Yau Hui Yuet

Invisible for One Day

If I were invisible for one day, I would go to Disneyland without needing a ticket. I could go on different rides that are fun and exciting without queuing. I would also go to an ice-cream shop and pick out any ice-cream I like for free!

Although being invisible has many different benefits, it is not always a good thing. For example, if I were invisible, people would not see my face again. If I were invisible my classmates, teachers and friends would not be able to talk to me again. And we could not hug or hold hands happily.

Maybe sometimes being invisible will give me freedom. But I think that if I could be visible compared with being invisible, I would choose to be visible as my final answer.