

Story Telling

Last Saturday Mum and Dad were out. Ted and Sid were playing football in the sitting room to have fun.

Ted and Sid followed the ball and later they ended up in the dining room. Then Ted kicked the ball towards Sid. Sid tried to catch it, but he missed. The ball flew towards Mum's favourite mug. Just as you expected, it hit the mug and the mug broke into pieces. The boys were scared because they knew their mum would get mad at them.

Ted said, 'Oh no! We broke the mug! What should we do Sid?' Sid said, 'I suggest that we need to be honest and tell the truth. Otherwise our mum will get mad not because of the mug but the lies.' The next day, the boys confessed. Unexpectedly their mum forgave them and said, 'I forgive you, but next time if you need to play ball-related games, play outside.' The boys felt grateful because out of all the endings that can happen they got the luckiest one.

Sunny

I arrived in Hong Kong last night. The weather was sunny. I was tired after the long flight, so I went to bed early. I slept very well.

This morning, Charmaine and I went to the café. We had afternoon tea there. I felt full. Then we went to the park and played on a slide and a swing. We felt excited.

After lunch, Charmaine, her family and I went to a theme park. We went on some rides. We felt scared. Then we went to the cinema and we watched a film.

In the evening, Charmaine, her family and I went to the hotel. We had a buffet meal. We felt full. Then we went home and took a nap. We felt tired. I had a great time!
